Easter Fills Churches Here

With clear skies and crisp morning air to lure them, thousands of residents of the city and county joined the Easter parade Sunday and attended church.

Reports from ministers of some of the larger churches in Washington C. H. indicated that in every case their churches were filled to capacity by the Easter Sunday churchgoers.

Both the Grace Methodist and First Presbyterian churches reported turnouts near or exceeding 1,000 each.

The First Baptist Church had 250 at the church service and about 110 at the sunrise service while the First Christian Church reported 225 out for the regular church service and about 170 at the Easter sunrise service.

A full house also greeted the minister of the St. Andrew's Episcopal Church, Rev. D. J. Macdonald.

Rev. Allan W. Caley of the Grace Methodist Church said there were more than 100 at the sunrise service; 274 at the 8 o'clock service and 650 at the 10:30 o'clock service.

At the St. Colman's Catholic Church likewise reported a heavy turnout on Easter Sunday as did the McInnis Presbyterian Church.

The weather conducive to not only going to church but visiting with friends and taking Sunday drives even though the mercury slid to 21 degrees Sunday night and only reached a high of 42 all day Sunday. At 8 o'clock Monday morning it stood at 29 degrees.

Easter Services Held Behind Iron Curtain

(By The Associated Press)
Continuing international tensions heightened the fervency of peace-hungry Easter celebrants throughout the Christian world Sunday.

Even in eastern Europe, where Orthodox Christianity no longer is favored as a way of life, Easter services were jammed.

In the face of a bleak world prospect, the celebration of the Resurrection of the Prince of Peace had added significance, and prayers for the end of strife took on new meaning.

Meanderings

By Wash Fayette

A lone quarter in change reposed on the top of a well at a country home on the Creek Road Sunday near Washington C. H.

Whoever lived at the farm home was no doubt puzzled. If they smelled the bucket nearby used for drawing water they would have detected the odor of gasoline.

And they wouldn't have been mistaken. Their water bucket was used for drawing gasoline from a tank in the rear of their home.

A stranded Sunday driver could have explained the mystery. His car ran out of gasoline in front of their house. No one answered his knock at the front door, so he did what came naturally. He swiped about a half of gallon of gas.

He justified his behavior to his friends by saying that "after all, whoever lives here would give me some gas anyway."

To evidence his appreciation for the quiet hospitality of leaving their gasoline tank unlocked, the Sunday traveler left the farm folks a quarter and drove on his way.

(Editor's Note: Kenneth Dixon, former AP war correspondent in World War II, covered the 45th Division from Anzio Beach throughout the Italian and Southern European campaigns. He is now managing editor of the Lake Charles, La., American Press.)

WASHINGTON, March 26—(AP)—The dispute that rages between General Douglas MacArthur and the Truman administration over how to win the Korean war has reached fever heat again. The administration may shortly ask the general to clear with Washington anything he says involving broad foreign policy issues.

This may or may not prove acceptable to MacArthur, but State Department officials as well as some others with great influence at the White House privately say something must be done to prevent a repetition of last week's exchange of shocks and harsh words between Tokyo and Washington.

President Truman circulated last December a firm, government-wide directive declaring any statement on foreign policy by any official or employee of the government in a speech, article or other public utterance, should be cleared with the State Department. Informants said today that order was called to MacArthur's attention at the time.

Friday night, Washington time, MacArthur left Tokyo for the 38th parallel area of Korea to order United Nations forces to cross into North Korea as tactical requirements made necessary. Before leaving Tokyo he issued a statement to the press.

In this statement he made a bid for peace talks with his opposite number on the Communist side, said the Chinese Reds were licked and incapable of waging modern war and warned if the United Nations launched attacks on Chinese bases and coastal area the Red nation would probably suffer military collapse.

This statement, a check showed, caught the State Department completely unawares. It apparently also caught President Truman without advance notice. After several hours of parleying, including a talk between Secretary of State Acheson and Mr. Truman, a rather meaningless statement was issued, designed to say on Saturday that Washington had had nothing to do with what MacArthur declared Friday night.

The statement said MacArthur had authority to conduct military operations but that political issues which "he has stated are beyond his responsibilities" are being dealt with in the UN and by the governments having troops in Korea.

The key MacArthur clause which set off the alarm here was that the United Nations could probably succeed in forcing a military collapse of Red China by a limited coastal-attack and base-bombing war. A Tokyo dispatch yesterday suggested MacArthur probably was trying to divert the Chinese Reds' attention from Korea to the danger of a coastal attack.

Rising Profits Seen as Threat

More Fuel Added To Inflation Spiral

WASHINGTON, March 26—(AP)—Economic Stabilizer Eric Johnston assesses climbing business profits, farm prices and wages for labor as potential explosives which "could blow the roof off inflation."

In a television interview yesterday he said:

1. Business profits in 1950 were 30 percent above 1949 in spite of increased taxes, and "we simply cannot allow business profits to keep going up."

2. Farm profits have gone up 27 percent since fighting started in Korea.

3. He hoped working men will not ask for wage increases beyond the present formula which permits 10 percent above the levels of January, 1950.

Any of these things, Johnston warned, could "blow the roof off."

He said it is "essential" to get prices and wages stabilized by the summer or fall, when he said military goods will begin to roll off assembly lines for the first time "in any quantity."

In the meantime, the government is expected this week to back up defense priority ratings with more positive assurance that defense and related industries get the steel, copper and aluminum they need after July 1.

Packinghouse Strike Stalled Six Months

CHICAGO, March 26—(AP)—The threatened nationwide strike of about 230,000 meat packers has been averted for at least six weeks.

The danger of a meat shortage or famine was removed Saturday with the agreement of the CIO United Packinghouse workers to go along with two other unions in deferring the strike deadline which had been set for today.

The unions, the AFL Meat Cutters and the Independent National Brotherhood of Packinghouse Workers along with the UPWA, had decided upon the strike to enforce their demands for a 11 cents an hour wage boost negotiated last month.

The agreement, however, was vetoed by Eric Johnston, Stabilization director. He said it would exceed the government wage formula which places a ceiling on increases at 10 percent above the wage paid on Jan. 15, 1950.

The unions had won an 11 cents an hour increase in August and Johnston held that under the ceiling formula they now could receive only another three cents, without Wage Stabilization Board approval.

The present wage scale ranges from $1.26 an hour to $2.10.

Racket Hearings Resumed

Local Law Enforcement Urged By FBI Chief To Halt Crime

WASHINGTON, March 26—(AP)—FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover today urged the Senate crime committee to continue its exposure of organized crime which "has polluted all too many communities of our nation."

He called also for local communities to take the lead in ruthlessly eliminating criminal elements and their ally, "the political renegade." Every community, Hoover suggested, should have a yearly grand jury investigation to scrutinize the administration of justice.

Hoover and Attorney General McGrath were before the Senate committee to discuss what new laws may be needed to combat crime.

McGrath urged that Congress tighten the laws against perjury—false testimony under oath—and give him authority to grant immunity to a witness who declines to testify lest he incriminate himself.

He recommended, too, legislation aimed to deny use of communications facilities for gambling information. But he emphasized that any such law should take into account the importance of maintaining the freedom of the press.

Two Indictments

Even as the law enforcement officers were testifying, a New York grand jury returned two indictments on perjury charges growing out of the committee's hearings there.

Those indicted were James J. Moran, resigned New York City water commissioner, and Louis Weber, acknowledged Brooklyn numbers bookmaker. They were accused of lying in testimony about their associations with each other.

McGrath, with some show of heat, told the senators there was no way the federal government could report Frankie Costello, New York racketeer, who is a native of Italy but was naturalized in 1925. McGrath's show of anger came when he said some newspapers were "trying to make it appear" the Justice Department had means to deport Costello.

McGrath opposed suggested creation of a federal crime commission, saying it might lead to creation of a national police force. Hoover also opposed a national police force. And, he declared, "what is really needed is not more laws but the will to enforce those laws already on the statute books."

"If the laws against gambling presently on the state and local statute books were earnestly and vigorously enforced, organized gambling could be eliminated within 48 hours in any community in the land," he said.

'Local Czars' Cited

He said there were "local czars" in any community where gambling exists.

"Without question, these local Czars have common purposes and working tools, and may well have contracts with national figures in gambling, the so-called tycoons of the underworld," he went on. "But these same national figures are themselves dependent, in their operations, upon the local gambling Czars. x x x"

"Blast the foundation of the local gambling czar, by vigorously enforcing the statutes against gambling without fear or favor and he will collapse and, like a house of cards, the vast pyramid of gambling will collapse."

Hoover said those engaged in vice activities and rackets "could not long survive without their ally—the political renegade."

They Also Serve!

Wives Face Long Wait Alone As Troops Leave for Far East

CAMP POLK, La., March 26—(AP)—The men who once said, "they also serve who only stand and wait" should be at Camp Polk today.

For it is the wives of the men in the 45th Infantry Division who impress you the most as the infantrymen pass by today in their last formal parade before leaving for Japan.

Eight years ago the 45th -- Oklahoma's Thunderbird Division -- headed eastward for Africa and Europe and 511 days in actual combat.

The soldiers, their wives and families observed Easter saying their last farewells. After today's last big show, a military security curtain will fall over the 45th.

There are two separate classes of wives. One is the wife who has been through all this before -- the one who in the last ten years has seen her husband less than half the time. The other is the wife who is seeing all this for the first time.

The first wife is more or less philosophical about it. You see her watching the going away activities with a wry smile on her face. In most respects it's old stuff to her and she will tell you so.

For the younger ones, it is still the same story that it was ten years ago. They are, for the most part, newly married. They have followed their husbands directly from home to an army camp, or from army camp to army camp. They are youngsters, scarcely out of school, and to them this is a new thing, a new crisis, a new

As the parading soldiers go by, the women, nonetheless, are welded together in the same role of waiting that none of them can escape, and although their pride in the marching men before them may be great, the eternal hopelessness that lies in the eyes of those who can only stand and wait is not a pleasant thing to see.

No Proof Yet Of Argentina Atomic Claim

BUENOS AIRES, March 26—(AP)—The Austrian credited with discovering Argentina's new cheap method of producing atomic energy told foreign newsmen about it for three hours yesterday but added little detail and no proof to what President Juan D. Peron announced Saturday.

The scientist is Ronald Richter, 42, now an Argentine citizen. He said, as did Peron, that Argentina would use the process not for bombs but in a long-range program to provide industrial power.

Peron announced Saturday that "controlled" atomic energy had been liberated by fusion of atoms under enormous heat, as contrasted with "uncontrolled" energy liberated by U. S. atomic explosions produced by splitting the atom.

Argentina's atomic reaction, Richter said yesterday, was produced in a "solar reactor furnace" protected by stone walls. Heat of hundreds of millions of degrees--like the surface temperature of the sun--released controllable atomic energy, Richter reported.

He declined, for security reasons, to say how the heat was produced or what elements were used to produce atomic reaction.

Winter Back In Wide Area

(By The Associated Press)

Temperatures fell back to almost midwinter levels in northern Michigan again today and were below normal over many of the eastern states.

An Easter snowfall of .8 inch in Minneapolis-St. Paul boosted the season's total there to a record 84.9 inches. The previous record of 84.9 inches fell in 1916-17.

The snowfall extended over Minnesota, the eastern part of the Dakotas, Iowa, central Illinois, southern Indiana, and regions near Lakes Erie and Ontario. But most of the nation had clear skies for the outpouring worshippers to churches and for the traditional Easter parade.

At Pellston, Mich., the temperature skidded to 15 below zero today and at Cadillac it was 8 below.

Red Resistance Just Fades Out

Enemy Force Massed North of Deadline

BY OLEN CLEMENTS

TOKYO, March 26—(AP)—United Nations troops solidified their lines on the western front in Korea today and drove rapidly north toward the 38th parallel.

Allied forces moved East from Munsan and linked up with American division north of Uijonbu. The town is about 10 miles south of the prewar boundary between North and South Korea.

Field dispatches said Red resistance melted. The Americans advanced rapidly despite soupy Korean mud.

The entire UN line drew closer to parallel 38. It appeared the Allies could cross in force whenever they chose.

On the central front an American division was reported within two miles of North Korea. On the east coast South Korean patrols punctured the imaginary line like a sieve, crossing and recrossing at will.

Far East naval headquarters said South Korean troops staged a commando raid 50 miles north of the parallel Saturday. They landed on the Wolsa peninsula and killed 100 Reds while capturing 69. Then they withdrew.

Save Tough Fighting

The peninsula is south of the Taedong Estuary which leads to Chinnampo, port city for the North Korean capital of Pyongyang.

From the western front AP Correspondent Jim Becker quoted U. S. officers as saying the line-up "saved us four or five days of tough fighting."

The officers said the Chinese 26th Army Corps, rushed into defensive positions north of Seoul only last week, had withdrawn. The only Reds spotted between the Americans and 38 was a single company. It was equipped with tanks. This unit was sighted north of Uijonbu.

Until the link-up, the Reds fought a stubborn delaying action along the road leading north from Uijonbu.

Heavy Red troop concentrations were reported just north of the 38th parallel. Parts of six Chinese and North Korean armies were spread between and around the North Korean towns of Yonchon and Hwachon.

6 Miles Across Border

Yonchon is about six miles north of the border, almost due north of Seoul. Hwachon is about seven air miles north of 38 and 16 air miles due north of Chunchon on the central front. Hwachon is also about 10 miles northeast of the point where the main highway from Chunchon crosses the parallel. An American division was reported two miles south of this point.

On Korea's east coast Republic of Korea (ROK) units operated with sea-borne artillery. Allied ships lying offshore pounded Red installations as ROK patrols jabbed across parallel 38.

In Pusan, South Korean President Syngman Rhee called for the United Nations forces to march north to the Yalu River--North Korea boundary with Manchuria.

He said 500,000 trained South Korean soldiers, with Allied supplies and arms, could defend the country once that goal was reached.

Commies To Resist Rearming of Europe

BERLIN, March 26—(AP)—The Communist-controlled "European Labor Conference" adopted a resolution today urging all workers to resist the rearming of western Europe.

The resolution climaxed a weekend meeting of delegates from Soviet sphere nations.

The federal and state governments help finance these programs.

County Engineer Charles Wagner reported to the county commissioners that he plans to attend the annual convention of county engineers of Ohio to be held at Toledo the last three days of March.

Two ditch hearings are on the agenda of the Fayette County commissioners this week. The Blue Run ditch is up for hearing Monday afternoon at 2 P. M. and the King ditch on Tuesday afternoon at 2 P. M.

Easter Services

embattled congregations Christ's message of hope.

An urgent wish for a peaceful, ordered world was the dominant theme of observances everywhere. In Communist-occupied Czechoslovakia, in Soviet-occupied east Germany and in Moscow itself, Easter services were jammed. In the Philippines, soldiers with fixed bayonets guarded the faithful from possible raids by the Red-inspired Hukbalahaps.

There were cheerful aspects, however. New York and Paris staged the customary Easter fashion shows.

Sudden showers fell in Israel, breaking the worst drought in 80 years.

A new note of reconciliation between Arabs and Jews in the holy land was appropriate to the day. An incident of the sort that has led to bitter dispute and even armed clashes was settled quickly amicably. The Israeli government agreed to return 140 sheep that had strayed across the border for Jordan territory. The Jordanians agreed to pay for damage caused by the sheep, as well as the expense of feeding and guarding them.

Easter weather over most of North America and Europe, however, was far from spring-like. There were snow flurries in Paris, cold winds in New York and leaden skies over most of Europe. Even in the holy land a chill spring wind accompanied the welcome rain.

Study Checks Involved in Braddock Case

Photostat copies of nine $50 American Express Traveler's checks, issued to Mrs. Minerva Braddock, who vanished Dec. 18, are now being studied by experts.

The photostat copies were received by Sheriff Orland Hays, who took them to the London Prison Farm Monday for study by handwriting experts.

The nine checks were cashed in Cleveland Dec. 18, the day she was last seen in that city. One $50 check was cashed here the day before she vanished, Hays said.

Sheriff Hays expressed belief that the checks had been signed by Mrs. Braddock.

It will be several days before a report on the handwriting is received, Sheriff Hays said.

No report has been received on $500 additional checks issued to Mrs. Braddock.

NEW YORK, March 26—(AP)—Caution held an uneven stock market in its grip today. Most price changes were $1 a share or less, and gains and losses were widely scattered in most sections of the list.

Trading reverted to its slow pace of last week, after an opening rush to clear weekend order accumulations.

Aircraft and railroad issues ran a bit ahead of the rest in today's dealings.

About 3,000 crossies are laid into a mile of standard railroad track.

The Nation Today

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON, March 26—(AP)—The Pentagon's big brass have to take a lot of time out from their actual defense work to talk about it to Congress.

It's a necessary task since Congress, which makes the laws to back defense, wants to know first hand from the brass what their plans are and why.

Sometimes Congress may overdo the demands it makes on the time of the Pentagon chiefs. But that's one of those things.

Secretary of Defense Marshall has had to make the trip to the capitol at least 10 times since taking office last September.

But Mrs. Anna Rosenberg, assistant secretary, is the one who has spent far and away the most time on the hill. But her case is extraordinary.

Before she was able to take office she was accused of being a Communist. That charge had to be explained. It turned out to be ridiculous.

But she had to face the lawmakers six times to brand the charge a lie, confront her accuser, and clear her name.

Then soon after becoming assistant secretary, with the job of working out a manpower program, she had to start dashing up to the capitol. She's made 13 trips, plus the six on the Communism charge.

There's no record of the times she was called up for informal discussions with members of Congress.

These other very important people have had to make their visit, too: General Omar Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff; General J. Lawton Collins, chief of staff of the army; Admiral Forrest Sherman, chief of naval operations; General Hoyt S. Vandenberg, chief of the air force; and assistant secretaries in the department of defense.

But when any of these people face the lawmakers they're not alone. They have to bring staffs with them to fill them in on some detail or answer a specific question of a member of Congress.

Even before the V. I. P.'s go to the hill, a lot of time is used in getting them ready for their appearance.

They have staffs to brief them on what they'll say and even anticipate questions which may be asked so they'll have ready answers.

And a great deal of work goes into preparing the kind of legislation which the Pentagon asks Congress to pass.

There's a staff to draw up the bills, which means, since events change from day to day, that these bills have to be drafted, redrafted, and re-drafted.

And all this is only one part of the picture, since it deals exclusively with Congress and the Pentagon people.

The same is true, more or less, for the other heads of government departments and agencies, particularly Secretary of State Dean Acheson who has to duck away from foreign affairs many times to answer lawmakers' questions or explain a shift in policy.

Jobless Payments Net Peak in Ohio

COLUMBUS, March 26—(AP)—Ohioans drew a record-breaking $80,698,271 in unemployment benefits during 1950, the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation reported today.

Ernest Cornell, BUC administrator, said the amount was about $1,000,000 more than was paid out during 1949.

A higher level of employment prevailed in Ohio in 1950 than in 1949. Claims filed by newly unemployed workers dropped 46 percent from 1949 to 524,729 last year. Continued claims, each of which reflects one week of unemployment by an individual, dropped 37 percent to 4,234,897.

1951 Business Ahead of Record

Sales and Earnings Beat Last Year's

By SAK DAWSON

NEW YORK, March 26—(AP)—First reports of how business is doing this year in sales and earnings show many firms pushing well ahead of even last year's record prosperity.

A long list of executives are on record today as to what they see ahead for 1951 as a whole. Most of them couldn't be wearing rosier glasses, although some think earnings will lag behind sales in the upward sprint.

Here is what a few of them, scattered through many industries, are saying about the present quarter's showing and the prospects ahead:

"Business is very, very good," says Clarence Francis, chairman of General Foods Corp. "This quarter's sales, in unit volume, are running about 25 percent above 1950." However, higher taxes, higher production costs and keener competition may take a toll of earnings.

A. E. Staley, Jr., president of A. E. Staley Manufacturing Co. of Decatur, Ill., processor of corn and soybeans, predicts new production records will be set in 1951.

Harley V. McNamara, president of National Tea Co., says the food chain's stores in the first eight weeks of 1951 were nearly 28 percent higher than last year.

F. M. Linder, president of Jacob Ruppert, says March beer sales are very substantially ahead of last March and the "trend is very encouraging." Beer sales of G. Helleman Brewing Co. of La Crosse, Wis., are running ahead of a year ago in spite of the severe winter, says Ralph T. Joanson, president.

Manufacturing Corp. are three times as big as a year ago, says President Victor Emanuel. He predicts continued high demand for the appliances and other products the company produces.

Philco Corp. reports 1950 earnings nearly 200 percent greater than in 1949, and President William Balderson says the steadily increasing backlog of government orders will take up any possible slack in civilian production of radios and television sets.

Sears, Roebuck & Co.'s president, Fowler B. McConnell, says the mail order house's business in the first half of 1951 should be about 10 percent ahead of last year, judging by the increased sales so far this year.

Paint sales have jumped this quarter, says Renshaw Smith Jr., vice president of Devco & Raynolds Co., and the next three Oil company earnings appear to be running around one-third high—months' prospects are bright. er than last year's first quarter, trade sources say. A number of oil company executives are optimistic today about the year's sales outlook.

The Warning of Inflation's Vicious Spiral

Fayette County housewives along with others all over the country, who note the increasing impact of inflation on their expense budgets, are not the only ones now worrying about prices.

Reports now indicate that military purchasing departments are becoming jittery too. They are beginning to feel the same pinch that the business man does who finds that to buy a new supply of something he needs soon is going to cost him much more than it did a few weeks ago.

Prices of military weapons and supplies have increased an average of 25 percent since the outbreak of fighting in Korea. Some price tags are still higher. A heavy gun that cost $160,000 last June is now billed at $250,000, with the price still climbing.

Higher cost of rearmament will be reflected in higher taxes. In turn these will be followed by higher prices and wages as the vicious spiral continues.

Price Controller Di Salle thinks the top-most price plateau will be reached next month, after which there will be a leveling off. He gives no reason for this prediction. There is no evidence of intention to attack inflation at its basic points. And the government "price freeze" is only a mild chill. If there is any frostbite anywhere, it is not visible to the naked eye.

If production continues its present excellent pace and government policy slows the manufacture of new money, there will be some hope. There is none in continuation of present inflationary policies.

Partial controls are ineffective. Competitive free enterprise is vastly to be preferred. But unless inflation is taken in hand the country will be subjected to government controls so strict that free enterprise will be only a memory.

There'll Be '52 Models

Automobile manufacturers will introduce 1952 models this fall, contrary to a widespread belief that concentration on war orders by auto plants would rule out new lines of vehicles for civilians. In fact, some manufacturers will make more drastic changes than occurred in any models in 10 years. One reason is that plans for the 1952 models were completed months ago and, in some cases, the machine tools to be used in producing them are on hand.

It would be more wasteful to scrap plans for new models than to go ahead with them. Changes in next year's cars will not be confined to new grilles. Several more makers, it is reported, will switch to overhead valve V-8 engines. There will be one or two new automatic transmissions. Power steering may find another convert.

March has proven an unpopular month because it added its winds to the political gale blowing out of Washington.

Always Lonely on a Barricade

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK, (AP)—Some- where in Korea weeks ago an American soldier picked up an enemy propaganda leaflet.

Ever since then the questions it raised have haunted him and members of his infantry squad.

The faded leaflet -- it is on my desk now -- is a greeting from "The Chinese people's army volunteer forces" to the American troops. It wished them a Merry Christmas and a peaceful New Year and asked:

"Why are you here slaughtering the Korean people and burning their homes down -- freezing and dying 5,000 miles from home where you belong with your families? Why aren't you enjoying a turkey dinner like the Wall Street financiers who sent you here to fight for their profits?"

"We do not want to fight you, and we bear you no ill-will, knowing that you, like us, are ordinary laboring people and that you have been duped by American warmongers and their Wall Street bosses."

"We only want you to go home, so that we Korean and Chinese people can build the lives we want and live in peace."

Somewhere in Korea Sgt. Donald Caine of the Eighth Cavalry regiment sat down and wrote a letter in pencil. He put the leaflet in the envelope and mailed it to me.

"We realize that enemy propaganda is one of their greatest weapons," he wrote. "But in our position how can we help but believe parts of this? So we'd like for you to help us get an answer to some of these questions."

"I don't feel I'm the one to give the answers. But here is my reply to Sergeant Caine and the boys in the fourth squad of the first platoon of the eighth regiment of the first U. S. cavalry division, fighting somewhere in Korea since last July:

"That leaflet would trouble any honest man if it were true. But it isn't true. And it isn't simply an earnest plea for peace, written by one soldier to a soldier on the other side."

"It is the effort of a skilled propagandist. He wants to confuse you, to make you homesick, to make you doubt your cause and feel your sacrifices are useless and unnecessary."

"If he should succeed in making a majority of American soldiers feel this way, we will have to pull out of Korea entirely. And in time, I think that means we will have to fight a third world war in our own homeland -- and our own families will become the refugees."

"You aren't fighting for the profits of Wall Street financiers -- or just to save Seoul or Taegu. You're fighting for a chance to keep your forever away from your own town -- Main street, U. S. A."

"Of course, it is true the average Chinese soldier doesn't in his heart bear you any real ill-will. You probably don't bear him individually any ill-will either. Soldiers in any war rarely have each other on a personal basis."

"I know the word freedom may sound ponderous and hollow in ears filled with the noise of a basic word -- basic as hunger and fear. And freedom is your goal. Eventual freedom in the world from war and fear and hunger."

"You came into Korea under a blue and white flag of the United Nations, pledged to bring unity and freedom to that country. Why is the Chinese so-called 'volunteer' there? He came under the Red flag of real slaughter -- the slaughter of the long dream of Korean independence."

"And if he wins there it won't be just Korean independence that will disappear. Step by step the Red armies of China and Russia will march across other countries unable to defend themselves alone -- and gradually swallow the world piecemeal."

"That would be quite all right, too, if it meant a better life finally for us all. But Communism hasn't been able to do that anywhere. Freedom has always brought more happiness than has slavery. And it is better to fight for a free world than a slave one."

"It is a lie that the Korean people want you to go home. They want you to stay and help them win a real peace. They dread the Chinese, and you know it."

"The truth is you are a military pioneer, fighting for the first time on a barricade defending all mankind's yearning for a final world peace. It's always lonely on a barricade, but no soldiers ever fought to hold a higher wall of hope."

"And if you hold it, the race of man will honor you forever."

State of Affairs on Formosa

By George Sokolsky

In the United States, we continue to debate whether we are to support Chiang Kai-Shek's government in Formosa, or whether we shall bypass him and deal with agents of guerrilla generals on the mainland or whether we shall recognize the Communist Mao Tse-Tung.

The British have solved this problem to their disadvantage by prematurely recognizing the Chinese Communists, who, however, do not recognize the British. This might be amusing if it were not so tragic in view of General Douglas MacArthur's stalemate in Korea, which is largely a result of this faulty British policy.

It is interesting, therefore, to have a look at the state of Formosa, an island which, by the treaty of Shimonoseki in 1895, was ceded to Japan along with the Pescadores. The Japanese called the island Taiwan, a name which the Russians continue to use.

The defeat of Japan in 1945 left Formosa without government, and Nationalist China took over, housing large bodies of troops there. In their hunt for pro-Japanese natives, the Chinese behaved badly. When Chiang Kai-Shek took over in 1949, he had the problem to face of establishing a government not only for the natives but for the enormous influx of refugee Chinese.

Meanwhile, the status of his government internationally became increasingly confused. According to the Cairo declaration (November 26, 1943), Formosa was to be returned to China by the peace treaty with Japan. But there is no peace treaty with Japan. Also, while the United States and other countries and the United Nations recognize the Nationalist regime, as the government of China, Great Britain and some other countries recognize the Soviet regime of Mao Tse-Tung.

This question of legitimacy is very important in Asia. In the matter of Korea, for instance, the Americans are embarrassed, perhaps disastrously, by the fact that Great Britain recognized that Chinese regime which is fighting us, while Great Britain is embarrassed by the obvious political necessity of voting in the United Nations with the United States and against Soviet China. General MacArthur emphasized this confusion in his "stalemate" statement.

Two cases have arisen in the British courts over this curious situation. In the matter of "Civil Air Transport, Inc. v. Chen-Nault and others," decided in the supreme court of Hongkong, the legitimacy of government was involved. The British court decided that as there is no peace treaty with Japan, Formosa is still part of the Japanese empire. This is, of course, a retreat into pure legalism, unrelated to the facts of the situation. Furthermore, it makes the British position illogical, for if there is no legitimacy to the Nationalist government in Formosa, what possible legitimacy can there be to the Communist regime in Peking?

In the case of "USA vs. Yang Soon Ee" in the Singapore court, the chief justice said:

"It is clear that the central peoples government and the peoples republic of China is recognized both de facto and de jure as the only government in China. The ship is registered in Formosa which is legally part of the Japanese empire and not apparently de facto under the control of the Communist government in China."

If this is true, why is not Korea a part of the Japanese empire? G. W. Keeton, dean of the faculty of law in the University of London, says of this:

"... it is an attitude which is quite inconsistent with that adopted in respect of Korea, which was also Japanese in 1943, but is now treated as an independent state. Moreover, if Formosa was to be regarded as still formally Japanese territory, then administration of it pending the peace treaty is ultimately the responsibility of the Allied powers, whose agent for defense is General MacArthur. Hence it would follow that any attack on it would be an attack upon the Allied military administration, and as such, a matter of immediate concern to this country as much as to the United States. Yet Great Britain has committed herself to the position that she is not primarily concerned with a Communist attack upon Formosa."

Both Communist and Nationalist China reject the British position both regard Formosa as Chinese territory. The official American view is that Formosa is Chinese territory. The British were premature in their recognition of Soviet China and that got them all tangled up in difficulties.

Helen Louise Hynes Feted At Gay Dancing Party On Eighteenth Birthday

One of the outstanding social events in the younger social set in Washington C. H. was the dancing party given at the Washington Country Club Saturday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Loren D. Hynes when they honored their daughter, Helen Louise on her eighteenth birthday anniversary.

Miss Hynes received her guests in a pale blue crepe dress fashioned with a lace bodice shot with silver thread and her corsage was variegated pink camellias. Soft drinks were served throughout the evening and at eleven o'clock a grand march led by the honor guest and her escort Bucky Smith which included intricate formations terminated at one long table where a delicious buffet supper was served and the decorations used were a huge crystal bowl of tulips in frosted pastel colors, sentinelled with tall frosted pastel candles in crystal candelabra. ### Mitchner-Lane Nuptials Read On Easter Sunday

Mrs. Edward A. Lane

In a beautiful Easter Sunday wedding at the New Burlington Friends Church, Miss Elizabeth Ann Mitchner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vergo Mitchner of near New Burlington, became the bride of Mr. Edwin A. Lane, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester J. Lane of near Wilmington, when Rev. Forrest F. Hubbell, Methodist minister of Cincinnati, formerly of Sabina, performed the double ring ceremony.

The vows were exchanged before an altar banked with white Easter lilies, greenery and lighted by white tapers in two seven-branch candelabra. Pre-nuptial music was presented by Mr. Ralph Beam, soloist, and Mr. Roger Kennedy, pianist.

The bride was lovely in a gown of white organdy, and her elbow-length veil of bridal illusion fell from a cap of the embroidered organdy.

She carried a nosegay of violets on a white satin Bible.

The maid of honor, Miss Nancy Jean Lundy, wore a gown of pale green sheer, and she carried a colonial bouquet of yellow daffodils.

Mr. Allen Lewis was best man and ushers were Messrs. Howard Lane, Richard Mitchner and Levi J. Shambaugh.

Immediately following the ceremony, the reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

Hostesses were Mrs. F. H. Lundy and Mrs. Walter Mitchner, who were assisted by Mrs. Robert Miller and Mrs. John Loveless.

For a week's motoring trip to the south, the bride had changed

Training Camp Baseball Briefs

VERO BEACH, Fla., March 26—(P)—Walt O'Malley, Brooklyn Dodgers president, admits that he talked to Fred Saigh, St. Louis Cardinal boss over the weekend but insisted there was no deal pending.

"I have not offered him any Dodger player and if Saigh is interested in making a deal he did not indicate it to me," O'Malley said.

Reports say that the Dodgers are trying to get Card holdout pitcher Howie Pollet and that the Cards are interested in an infielder, supposedly Ed Miksis.

Jansen Is at It Again With His Home Run Ball

LAKELAND, Fla., March 26—(P)—Larry Jansen, New York Giants' righthander, who is always well up in the "home run ball club" is a member in good standing once again.

Jansen had eleven scoreless innings to his credit when Mike Guerra of the Boston Red Sox shattered his streak with a three run homer yesterday in the second inning. Two innings later Bobby Doer socked Larry for another three-run round-tripper to clinch the Red Sox 6-1 victory.

Ohio Boy Looks Good In Cincinnati Outfield

TAMPA, Fla., March 26—(P)—A smiling Ohio youngster from St. Henry, O., has been one of the most pleasant surprises Cincinnati Manager Luke Sewell has unearthed in a long time.

The husky, 22-year-old kid is Wally Post, an outfielder up from the Reds' Tulsa farm club. Postie seems a sure bet to be retained as a regular when the club winds up its spring training. Wally may fade out when the league's better hurlers start curving 'em, but right now he looks like money in the bank for Sewell.

No less an authority than Ed Roush, one of the game's all-time great outfielders, was lavish in praise of the St. Henry boy after watching him in action recently. Roush particularly liked the way Post nervily went flying into the second baseman to break up a double play, as well as his lack of hesitation when taking out after a fly ball.

The Reds, who dropped a 2-1 decision to a Boston Braves "B" team yesterday, take off for Bradenton today for another contest with the Boston squad.

Indians Kept Hustling For Places on Team

TUCSON, Ariz., March 26—(P)—Flush from a four-game foray of the Pacific Coast League, Cleveland's Indians could be resting up today. But they're not.

Competition for regular positions keeps them hustling, especially the outfielders.

Third baseman Al Rosen is leading the team with 457. He drove in a total of seven runs yesterday as Cleveland walloped the San Francisco Seals, 15-1, and the Oakland Oaks, 15-3.

Early Wynn and Bob Feller were the Indians' stingy starting pitchers for the two games. Wynn held the Seals to one run and three hits in six innings. Against Oakland, Feller allowed three runs—only one of them earned—and four hits in six.

Kansas and Kentucky Play for Cage Crown

MINNEAPOLIS, March 26—(P)—If you believe everything you hear, it will be two tired teams squaring off tomorrow night for the National Collegiate Athletic Association's basketball championship.

Kansas State is weary and pretty well beaten up from its 68-44 victory over Oklahoma A & M Saturday night in the western playoff at Kansas City, say team followers.

Kentucky, winner of the eastern playoff with a 76-74 decision over Illinois is after its third NCAA crown. The Wildcats are tired because they have played 33 games and travelled 15,000 miles, says Coach Adolph Rupp.

Against Illinois, Shelby Linville scored the last three baskets to tie the score at 72-72, 74-74 and then won the game in the final 18 seconds of play. Kentucky came

Grange Bowlers Have Big Night

Grange League bowlers could well be nursing sore muscles today after their big night Saturday.

Because a mixed doubles tournament monopolized the Bowland alleys the Saturday night of Mar. 17, the Grangers rolled off that series of matches and then followed those up with their regular scheduled competition.

All of which made six games for each of the 40 bowlers, enough to stiffen their muscles under normal conditions.

Joke Gets Results

Cramer sat back in anticipation.
Stanley was sure to find the plate sooner or later.

As it turned out he found it later, 10 years later, and touched off visions of pirate gold and treasure chests. Newspapers in South Jersey and Philadelphia played up the "find."

Stanley gave the nameplate to a local historian who planned to mention it in a historical society paper at Valley Forge, Pa., next week.

When Cramer heard that, he told police, he thought it best to set the record straight. They agreed with him.

Stanley wasn't available for comment.

Reds Who Surrender Are Invited to Tea

KULA LUMPUR—(P)—Communist terrorists who lay down their arms and surrender to the British are being entertained at tea by the Selangor branch of the Malayan Chinese association.

Six former terrorists, said they had found that British government authorities had given them freedom, clothing and food after surrendering. They said this was in marked contrast to deceit and the tyrannical rule of leaders of terrorists in the Malayan jungle.

VD Rate Rising Despite Cures

War Preparations One of Reasons

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
NEW YORK, March 26 (AP)—
In spite of the new quick cures, venereal disease is now rising again.

One reason is war preparations. Another is cuts in federal money for fighting syphilis and gonorrhea. Whether the rapid cures assist by increasing temptation is not clear.

The rise is a recent reversal of the downward trend since the second world war. It is coming back insidiously just when authorities were talking about virtual eradication. The facts are from the files of Charles W. Clark, M. D., executive director of the American Social Hygiene Association.

Quick cures have taken away the immunity to syphilis which many persons got under the old treatments. The immunity did not come from the medicine, but from the long time a person had the disease, a year or more while taking the cure.

8-Day Treatment

Today syphilis is treated eight days with penicillin. If the case is early, it usually is cured. But the patient is not immune to further infections of syphilis. As a result, for the first time, clinics are receiving people who come in with reinfections. The proposed single-shot syphilis treatment now under experiment may cure, but will not immunize.

Gonorrhea cures are so rapid that it is theoretically possible to acquire a new case every week. The repeaters actually do not wait long.

Nevertheless quick cures carry the main hope of eradication, because syphilis can be spread only in the early stages. The great goal has been discovery of the cases early, then using quick cures to close off the source.

The American Social Hygiene Association is receiving reports from many states and city health authorities of a rise in both kinds of venereal disease. Part of the rise shows up around military training camps, just as it has in all our wars. Two camps reported dangerous rises in January.

Greatest Worry

The greatest worry is about the reduction in staffs, due to cuts in federal money made by the bureau of the budget, for the sake

River's Rim

CHAPTER FORTY-ONE
THERE came no word of any crossing, along the river, following the bombardment. The next day a strange quiet hung over the opposite shore as if all life there suddenly had ceased. The river flowed, blue as the sky, between the shores.

The Gazette printed a long story, a few days later. "Assault on Our Shores from Fort Erie Gallantly Repulsed," ran the heading. Defeated in it, the enemy, before abandoning the fort and retreating inland, had blown up their magazine. "The strength of our defense has achieved peace for us," stated Ollie Kane.

Quint threw the newspaper down with a sound of deep disgust. A great triumph! One gun had been fired from the American side of the river. Peace, because for some strategic reason the British forces were withdrawing from the river. But peace would not be in him—he had been shaken in those convictions he had clung to so stubbornly.

For all the terror she had shown, Becky was the only light-hearted one in the household. Michael Duffy, the young driver, had told her he was coming back in two weeks or so, she confided to Jennet, her cheeks very red as she whispered it. "He's got enough saved to marry on, he said. He wants to settle, somewhere... He's nice-speakin'!"

Jennet was startled at the distinct pang of envy she felt. "You're silly—you don't know him," she protested. "And there is Erron Piers..."

"Erron Piers! You're the one who is silly," countered the younger girl with a spirit acquired on the instant. "You're the one he comes here to see!"

Jennet made no answer for the reason that, since the hours in the woods, against her will she was feeling sorry for Erron. And he had risked his life to get Aladdin to safe shelter—she must be kind to him. She was as shaken in her feelings as was Quint.

Some days later Ollie Kane, making a reckless incursion in his stock of precious paper, brought out an extra edition of the Gazette. Big type told that the long-planned invasion of Canada through Lake Champlain was under way, a strong force already on the march toward Montreal; bigger type that the enemy troops had been withdrawn from along the Canadian shore of the river to join Brigadier General John Vincent at Burlington Heights and proceed from there to the defense of York and Montreal.

"We on the frontier may now return to our peacetime affairs and occupations..."

There was some mockery in this where Quint was concerned. He could not return to his plans of enterprise. He did not let himself think of them. And his work around the tavern had at no time been interrupted.

"Aunt Rhoda can cross the river safely now, Uncle Quint," said Jennet after she had read the sheet. "Can't we plant some flower seeds so they'll be growing when she comes?"

Quint gave her a startled look. He had not thought of that. He was not letting himself think of Rhoda, either. Of how he would feel toward her, if she did come back.

"Put in some seeds if you like—I'll turn the ground. But I doubt, after enjoying my brother's way of living, she'll return to this." He spoke with bitterness. Rhoda's going to Alec was a great part of the sense of defeat that had grown in him.

Jennet began to work in Rhoda's garden, and while she worked she rehearsed to herself what she would say to Erron Piers when they next met. It must be kind and at the same time discouraging to any ideas he might have of courting her.

But Erron did not come. It was more than a week now since that night in the woods and he had not come, a fact which gave Jennet great annoyance.

Then, one day, she was out by the sheds and she heard him shout to her from the beach. He was running.

"Miss Jennet, they're hauling all the craft from the yard, up the river... They'll be along right soon... you can see 'em..."

"The brig?" asked Jennet, as breathless as he.

"Aye. She's the beauty of the fleet. Where's Quint? They'll need more hands along here where the current's swifter..." He was running toward the house as he spoke, and Jennet was running beside him.

Erron was not the only runner to spread the news. Men were

A traffic judge says that 60% of all car accidents are caused by bad manners. This is usually combined with too much speed and a good helping of carelessness... but the fact remains that if folks were more considerate of each other there would be fewer crashes on the highways. It's a funny thing that a fellow who is kind to dogs and children, seldom beats his wife, loves flowers and birds, can get behind the wheel of a car and turn meaner than a hungry lion. He acts as though politeness is a weakness. Yes, the biggest hazard is driving today... is the nut behind the wheel.

Between the weather, income tax and politics - plus - the gambling investigations one is kept busy just trying to keep up on what's going on.

It's a queer law, it seems to me that allows or permits anyone to refuse to answer questions, when brought on the witness stand. I may try that plan on my wife the next time she starts quizzing me. I've got an idea she'll take the law in our own hands.

Two Are Injured In Auto Wreck

Both Pinned in Car Nearly One Hour

James Curry, 29, and Miss Marjorie Molton, both of Washington C. H., had a narrow escape from death at an early hour Sunday, when the car in which they were riding was wrecked near Jamestown.

The accident occurred 2 1/2 miles east of Jamestown on Route 35 while Curry and Miss Molton were returning from the home of Miss Molton's mother in Dayton.

An approaching car forced Curry to swerve sharply to prevent a head-on-crash, and the car went over a culvert and was badly wrecked. The car was owned by William Curry, brother of James and was traveling about 40 miles an hour at the time.

Both occupants of the car were pinned in the wreckage for nearly an hour until Curry extricated himself. He obtained aid from a nearby farm house and removed Miss Molton from the wreckage, it was stated.

A passerby brought them to the City Building here and police took them to Memorial Hospital, where they were treated and dismissed.

Curry received cuts, bruises and sprains and Miss Molton was badly bruised but not injured seriously.

Easter Weekend Marred By 16 Deaths in Ohio

The Easter weekend brought violent death to at least 16 persons in Ohio, an Associated Press survey showed today.

Fourteen of the victims lost their lives each a plane crash and fire claimed four victims apiece.

It was one of the worst weekends in months for accidents in which more than one person died.

The multiple tragedies began Friday night when three young men were killed on U. S. Route 40 near Cambridge as their automobile struck a parked truck. The victims were Paul Starr, 21, and Donald Salz, 22, both of Columbus, and Kenneth Suplita, 25, a soldier, of East Liverpool.

In the Cleveland suburb of Broadview Heights, three men and a woman died yesterday after the light plane they were in crashed in an abandoned pasture. The victims were Helen Lois Fishback, 21, of Akron; Ernest H. White, Jr., 18, of Akron; Clarence Kitchen, 37, an Akron city detective, and James L. Longstreth, 23, of Akron.

About 15 miles west of Kenton, three persons were killed when one automobile rammed the rear of another on U. S. Route 30 south. The dead are Ishman Conley, 15, of Alger; Glenn Gibson, 22, and Orville Ramey, 17, both of McGuffey.

Late last night, four young children of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Root died in Toledo after fire engulfed their four-room home. At the time of the fire the parents were at an American Legion Post where Root is a bartender. The victims were Barbara, 7, and her brothers, Donald, 6, Edward, 6, and Michael, 3. A deputy coroner said they were burned extensively but apparently died of suffocation.

Pfc. Yates Puts in Word for Red Cross

Pfc. Winton Yates, son of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Yates, said he is fully back of the Red Cross and its work.

Pfc. Yates is stationed at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Tex., where many wounded from the Korean campaign are landed in big transport planes.

They have many desires when they reach American soil. Some want to call their parents long distance; others want help in sending telegrams or writing letters. The Red Cross functions around the clock taking care of our fighting men there, Yates said.

And he said the servicemen really appreciate the help they get from the Red Cross.

Pfc. Yates celebrated his 21st birthday Sunday as well as Easter Sunday.

He will return to Texas early Tuesday morning.
